CURATED BY MIKE STUBBS AND GILLIAN DYSON

PART OF HULL UK CITY OF CULTURE 2017

PRODUCED WITH SUPPORT FROM FACT, LIVERPOOL AND ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

A two day takeover of Hull's newest contemporary arts space, ReROOTed combines interventions, performances, installations and conversations, reflecting on the legacy of the former commissioning agency, Hull Time Based Arts (HTBA) and 10 years of the Running Out Of Time (ROOT) Festival.

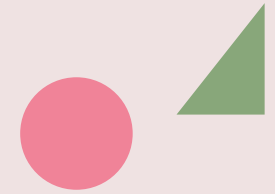

Featuring new commissions and existing work by more than 25 international artists, including Alexandre Burton, Alastair MacLennan and Anne Bean, it is a celebration of the past and present, encouraging us to question our capacity for change and the possibilities that sprout as we re-root, transplant and grow.

The festival is completely free to attend, so drop in for a weekend of disruption, debate and chaos.

ARTIST COMMISSION: REROOTED AND NOURISH 2017

During ReROOTed, Yorkshire & Humber Visual Arts Network (YVAN) has commissioned an artist to create a work in response to the two day takeover.

The resulting work will be presented at YVAN's Nourish 2017 regional conversation in Autumn this year.
