

PRESS RELEASE

You don't need much to have fun!

A project in Hull, proving you don't need iPads, Xboxes and PlayStations to have a good time, returns this weekend.

The back to basics project has been held at various locations across Hull this year with the latest event taking place at Thorpes Resource Centre, Orchard Park, on Saturday 26 August.

Celebrating the Bantu Culture is a unique Hull UK City of Culture 2017 project, part of the Creative Communities Programme, which celebrates the humble but fantastic creativity of people from southern regions of Africa.

Organiser Cathrine Israel is one of many Bantu people, who originate from African regions south of the equator, who now calls Hull her home.

She said: "We want to share with you how we embrace culture in the southern regions of Africa.

"We enjoy creativity using natural substances. For our people, creativity is of necessity!

"Come and see how out of the most basic and rudimentary, the most exquisite creations are made.

"Spend an afternoon with us enjoying our recipes, music and above all getting your hands dirty, creating something to take away home.

"Bring your happy mood and let's have fun!"

"We want to meet you and say, 'We are the Bantu people! Your neighbours!'"

The event is for everybody and all ages.

It will run from 1pm - 6pm and entrance is free.

The project will then appear at the following venues throughout the rest of the year -

23 Sept
Wawne Village Hall

28 Oct
Priory Baptist Church, Hull

Martin Green, Director of Hull 2017, said: “What a great way to get creative in ways you probably never have before.

“Creative Communities celebrates the diverse culture we have in the city and this is another great example of that.”

NOTES TO EDITORS

Celebrating the Bantu People is one of 60 new projects to receive funding through the Hull 2017 Creative Communities Programme, which is being delivered in partnership with the Big Lottery Fund, a Principal Partner of Hull 2017.

A total of £750,000 is being invested in the programme, which was set up to celebrate, nurture and support local talent and develop opportunities for emerging artists.

In addition to cash from Hull 2017 and the Big Lottery Fund, the projects will receive staff support to build capacity in the arts sector, helping to create a legacy. The Creative Communities Programme is also being supported by Hull and East Riding Charitable Trust.

The projects - which range from photography exhibitions to music and food festivals and choral and orchestral concerts to audio-visual installations - will see local artists, community groups, cultural and other organisations in the city working with local people of all ages to create new artistic work, events, installations and other activity throughout 2017.

About Hull UK City of Culture

Hull UK City of Culture 2017 is a 365 day programme of cultural events and creativity inspired by the city and told to the world. Hull secured the title of UK City of Culture 2017 in November 2013. It is only the second city to hold the title and the first in England.

Divided into four seasons, this nationally significant event draws on the distinctive spirit of the city and the artists, writers, directors, musicians, revolutionaries and thinkers that have made such a significant contribution to the development of art and ideas.

The Culture Company was set up to deliver the Hull 2017 programme and is an independent organisation with charitable status. It has raised £32 million, with over 60 partners supporting the project, including public bodies, lottery distributors, trusts and foundations and local and national businesses. Key contributions are coming from: Host City - Hull City Council; Principal Partners - Arts Council England, BBC, Big Lottery Fund, East Riding of Yorkshire Council, Heritage Lottery Fund, KCOM, KWL, Spirit of 2012, Yorkshire Water and the University of Hull; Major Partners - Associated British Ports, Arco, BP, the British Council, Green Port Hull, Hull Clinical Commissioning Group, MKM Building Supplies, P&O Ferries, Paul Hamlyn Foundation, Sewell Group, Siemens, Smith & Nephew and Wykeland Group.

68 per cent of the funding is dedicated to public facing activities, including the widest range of cultural events in every corner of the city, with a further 11 per cent for legacy and contingency. More than £5 million is being invested in volunteering, learning and community engagement. £1.6 million is being invested to ensure a legacy after 2017. This includes capacity building, such as supporting existing events so they can grow, staging curtain-raiser events, developing future programming for after 2017 and building a new platform to support a unified ticketing system for the city.

Hull 2017's International Partners are: Aarhus, Denmark, which is European Capital of Culture 2017; Reykjavik, Iceland; Rotterdam, The Netherlands; and Freetown, Sierra Leone (twinned with Hull). These relationships are reflected in a number of events throughout the year.
